

Dear colleagues!

The Foreign Languages Department invites you to take part in a pilot testing to measure your English level, which will be held in April. The structure of the test (IELTS-based test) will consist of writing and speaking that will be taken by English native speakers: Kelvin and Mersy.

We address everyone, who would like to take part in it, to send an application form for participation in the pilot testing by 20 March 2017. All applications are to be sent to the e-mail of the Foreign Languages Department (inyaz@nuph.edu.ua). You must write a full name, the name of your department and mobile phone number in the application form.
